Need for the specific project on which AmeriCorps Member is serving:

Futures and Options believes that all young people deserve the preparation and access needed to become competitive in the labor market. Together with our partners, we are investing in the city's future workforce through skills training, exposure to a range of career paths, and robust early work experiences. We are a collaborative organization that leverages the knowledge and experience of all individuals who contribute to our programs – from the supervisors who manage our interns to the funders who offer resources for us to reach more youth – to carry out our mission.

Volunteers are a critical component of our program model. Our program coordinators are our students' first introduction to the workplace, teaching them transferable skills for success. But it is our volunteers who offer our students the opportunity to put their teaching into practice. Our Career Essentials, Internship, and Alumni Success programs in particular harnesses the talents of our volunteers, engaging them to offer events and workshops on career- and college-related topics most meaningful to our students and recent program graduates. These volunteers increase our students' and young alumni's confidence and self-efficacy, and introduce them to the many ways they can find a place in the work world.

We find that the volunteers who work with our students and recent alumni are most engaging when they are alumni of our programs themselves. Over the past few years, we have been working to develop a network of alumni who are now young professionals and interested in sharing their knowledge, skills, and experiences to assist our high school- and college-aged alumni. We are excited by the prospect of empowering a Volunteer Assistant to recruit, train, and manage volunteers who would contribute to our programming for current students and recent alumni, and we are especially enthusiastic for the Volunteer Assistant to attract our older alumni to share their talents.

Expectations and Goals for the specific project on which AmeriCorps Member is serving:

The Volunteer Assistant will work closely with our program team to implement volunteer engagement within our high school and alumni programs, which opens doors for students and recent graduates to achieve meaningful professional careers. This person will collaborate with our Alumni Engagement Coordinator to engage volunteers to provide the following support:

- 1) Mentorship: College-aged alumni are paired with high school-aged alumni to offer support on completing college applications, selecting programs of study, and acclimating to the college environment. Professionals are paired with college-aged alumni to offer support on strengthening their resumes, leveraging their networks for information interviews, and finding summer internships. Our goal has been to foster and support over 40 pairs in total.
- 2) Skill-building workshops: Volunteers present skill-building workshops on topics such as financial literacy, personal branding, writing strong resumes, public speaking, and interviewing for industry-specific jobs.
- 3) Career exploration: Volunteers host small groups of students and/or alumni at their offices or virtually to learn about their companies and meet their colleagues. Students and/or alumni learn about the different career paths of employees at the organizations and build their networks.

The Volunteer Assistant will recruit from business partners, board and junior board members and alumni of our programs themselves, offering them an opportunity to engage with Futures and Options and strengthen our service offerings. Our goal is to have the volunteer assistant increase alumni engagement as well as volunteer engagement 5% as compared to FY 22 numbers.
